

Problem Statement:

While review sites that rate toilets exist, a good public restroom rating site doesn't exist that shows restrooms nearby.

Who has this problem?

Anyone who has to use a public restroom for different reasons such as road trips or health problems.

What is the problem?

People don't know whether the restroom they plan on using works, is clean enough to use or is unusable.

Where does the problem present itself?

The problem presents itself whenever you need to use the restroom and aren't able to get to or use one inside the comfort of your home.

Why does it matter?

It matters because people can have accidents depending on what happens when trying to find a usable restroom.